No Flies on the Weather.

The air is growing chilly now.
The nights extremely cool,
And in the morn a hint of ice
Is on the wayside pool.

We're adding overcoats and gloves
In comfort quite luxurious,
And noses red and ears to match
Are commoner than curious.

How blithely doth the good housewife
Now pile the screens together,
Her season of content has come—
There're no flies on the weather.
—J. H. GRAY.

GREAT BANQUET BY BLUEJACKETS

2500 Men of British and American Navy Enliven Coney Island.

LIVELY DAY FOR PRINCE LOUIS

New York, Nov. 14.—Prince Louis of Battenberg passed yesterday in a fashion that would have tested the stamina of a political candidate engaged in a campaign of the whirlwind order and stood the strain with a fortitude worthy of a British admiral. He began the round of entertainments with a reception at the Chamber of Commerce, where he was greeted by a representative gathering of captains of commerce and finance. After a brief breathing spell he was whirled down to Coney Island, where he and the officers of his fleet, with Admiral Evans and other representatives of the American navy attended a great banquet given by the bluejackets of the American warships to their British cousins.

From the banquet a special train bore the prince and his suite back to New York in time to appear at the Horse Show, where his entrance was the signal for a tumultuous welcome from a great assemblage, representative of the fashion and wealth, not only of the metropolis, but of all the principal cities of the union. "Blood is thicker than water." Written on the frontispiece of the menu cards, this famous saying of the American naval officer, Taitnall, never found more impressive expression than it did at the dinner on the Bowery at Coney Island which the enlisted men of the Atlantic fleet gave to the enlisted men of his Britannic majesty's navy, commanded by Rear Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg. It was the keynote of the cheering with which the 2500 British and American sailors made the great pavilion ring to the echo. It was the toast to which they drank across the long tables which stretched down the great hall beneath the overhanging British and American flags. It was the theme of the speeches that accompanied the cigars and the beer of this mammoth feast, unique in the history of all navies, and which will long furnish the theme of yarns on many a British and American berth deck.

Three cheers were given to Rear Admiral Prince Louis and then to Rear Admiral Evans. Leaving the dinner for a few moments, the admirals went into the balcony and gazed upon the impressive scene. Every sailor was on his feet, twirling his cap aloft, and led by a quartermaster at the end of the hall, the mighty company cheered as only British and American sailors can cheer—clean cut, all together and far-reaching, until the sounds echoed across the seas that beat on Coney's shore.

By 10 o'clock the 15 rounds of beer which each sailor received had been disposed of, and the men started out to Coney Island. Many of the amusement places opened up in honor of the visitors. At midnight the shooting galleries, the beer gardens and the other attractions were doing a mid-summer business and the 2500 sailors were having the time of their lives.

The boats came alongside Steeple-chase pier at 6 o'clock this morning and took the banqueters to their respective ships. The front of the menu cards bore a picture of the American and British sailors clasping hands, over the flags of their two countries. The guests were seated, first a Britisher and then an American. In front of each plate was an American flag stick pin bearing on its back the inscription: "Hope we will meet again."

PASSENGER TRAINS COLLIDE

One Killed and Two Seriously Injured Near Oxford, Pa.

Oxford, Pa., Nov. 14.—One man was killed and two others were seriously injured in a head-on collision between passenger trains on the Baltimore Central division of the Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington railroad at Nottingham, near here. The victims are Wesley Beattie, of Oxford, engineer of the north-bound passenger train, who was so badly hurt that he died in a few minutes; Elwood Lindsay, of Perryville, Md., engineer of the south-bound train, who sustained a dislocated shoulder and fractures of both ankles and internal injuries, and Edward Floyd, of West Grove, Pa., fireman of the south-bound train, who also sustained a dislocated shoulder and was hurt internally.

The trains that collided were the through train from Philadelphia to Baltimore and the Baltimore-Oxford express. The latter train had orders to take a siding at Nottingham to allow the south-bound train to pass. The south end of the siding was blocked by two freight cars, and Engineer Beattie decided to run his train to the north end and back into the siding. He met the south-bound train before he reached the upper end of the siding. Lindsay and Floyd saved their lives by jumping, but Beattie was caught between his locomotive and the tender. The passengers on both trains were shaken up but not injured.

OPPOSE RATE LEGISLATION

Railroad Men Tell President It Will Reduce Their Wages.

Washington, Nov. 15.—An earnest protest was made to the president against the proposed railroad freight rate legislation. The protest was filed by representatives of the five great labor organizations connected with railroads—the Engineers, Firemen, Conductors, Switchmen and Trainmen. The members of the delegation called on the president and presented the several organizations. They pointed out to him that railroad rate legislation logically meant the lowering of rates. This they contended will be followed by a lessening of the earning power of railroads and consequently by reduction eventually of the wages of railroad employees.

In response President Roosevelt assured the delegation that it was not his purpose or the purpose of those who favored railroad rate legislation to do anything that might injure the railroads of the country or, incidentally, the employees of the railroads. He said that it was his purpose that all classes—railroads, shippers and employees—should have perfectly fair treatment. He was of the opinion that the proposed legislation would not mean a reduction necessarily in railroad rates, and suggested that the members of the delegation, therefore, were proceeding on a wrong understanding of the situation.

KILLED IN HER KITCHEN

Mrs. Foering Meets Death in Explosion of Water-Back.

Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 15.—While Mrs. H. A. Foering, wife of Head Master Foering, of the Bethlehem Preparatory School, was in the kitchen of her home, the water-back of the stove exploded and a large piece of flying iron struck her on the head, crushing her skull and instantly killing her. Bessie Miller, a servant girl, was tossed the length of the room and injured by coming in contact with the furniture. The room was badly wrecked and set on fire, but the flames were extinguished by painters who were employed on the premises. Mrs. Foering was a daughter of Dr. W. H. Hartwell, of Allentown, president of the State Medical Association.

He is confined to his room in the midshipmen's quarters, under what is known in the service as a "military arrest." Minor Meriwether, Sr., arrived at Annapolis and had a talk with his son.

It is said that evidence will be adduced before the court that will place Meriwether's case in a better light than has been indicated.

PRESIDENT SMALLWOOD IN CANADA.

A Great Speech There.

Toronto, Canada, 11-13, 1905. Special to the PLANET.

Could the Hon. John Mitchell, Jr., editor and President of the Mechanics Savings Bank at Richmond, Va., heard President John J. Smallwood, founder of the Temperance, Industrial and Collegiate Institute at Claremont, Va., U. S. A., speak Sunday, Nov. 12th, in Massey Hall before 5000 human souls and in the fashionable Queen St. Methodist Church to 1500 auditors and before the Hebrew Mass-meeting against the cruelties of the Jews in Russia, all would have felt proud of this self-made Negro American.

Dr. Smallwood paid the business Negroes and the professional Negroes of Richmond such a tribute of unselfish respect that five thousand and white people in Massey Hall applauded him for quite two minutes. Mr. Smallwood is cultured, refined, learned and modest. He is a most pleasant and charming guest, and conversationalist, a great lover of his race, and the leaders of his race in all of their callings.

Dr. Smallwood is an independent Negro educator, therefore for a good many years to come, he must expect to meet with great opposition and discouragement as he attempts to educate the Negro. The time will come however, when Dr. Smallwood will be looked upon as one of the greatest Negro leaders and one of the best educators of this day and generation.

His honesty, activity, industry, his manhood all invites and appeals to Canadian education and race culture. Dr. Smallwood has caused the white people of Toronto to see the Negro as they have never seen him before. His tribute to his own race under the existing conditions was most touching. Dr. Smallwood is a guest of our most learned citizen and physician, U. M. Syranl.

MORE TROUBLE FOR RUSSIA

Empire On Brink of Another General Strike—Uprising at Vladivostok.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 15.—Russia is on the brink of another general strike. The council of workmen's delegates, in accordance with the program of the Social Democrats, resolved to obtain a working day of eight hours, by revolutionary means if necessary. All employers are determined to oppose the demand and the situation is critical.

A state of war has been declared at Vladivostok. Private advices say that the Chinese quarter has been entirely destroyed and that the uprising is now under control.

The uprising at Vladivostok began immediately after the departure of the Russian armored cruisers Gromobol and Rossiya. The people who had gathered in great crowds in the streets became excited by inflammatory speeches. Many soldiers and sailors were also in an angry mood, having expected to go home with the squadron. The mob began to break windows and pillage, and in the evening set fire to the theatre, the Golden Horn hotel, to several blocks of Chinese buildings in the northern part of the city and to the officers' residences and other buildings in the eastern quarter. The fires burned all night. Seventy buildings were consumed. Troops were summoned to restore order, and fired frequent volleys, killing many persons.

TWO LITTLE HEROES KILLED

Lost Their Lives in Saving Life of Little Girl.

New York, Nov. 15.—Kinston Blauvelt, aged 6, and Abraham Diamond, aged 5 years, of Jamaica, L. I., lost their lives in saving the life of a little girl who was in danger of being run down by a railway train at a grade crossing. The gate had been lowered for the passage of the train, but a hand of little school children crawled beneath it. The foremost of these was a little girl, who had just reached the rails as the engine was bearing down upon her. She did not heed the warning shouts of the gateman or the cries of her playmates, but walked deliberately into the danger. To save her, the Blauvelt and Diamond boys rushed forward and shoved her across the track and to safety, but there was not time for them to cross or retreat, and they fell beneath the wheels. Diamond lost both legs and an arm and Blauvelt sustained a fracture of the skull. They were taken to a hospital, where both died a few hours later.

CHILD'S AWFUL DISCOVERY

On Returning From School Found Parents Dead on Kitchen Floor.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 14.—Seven-year-old Elsie Jones, on returning from school to her home in North Scranton found her father and mother lying dead on the kitchen floor. The mother had been shot in each eye and the father in the left temple. A 38-calibre revolver was clutched in the father's right hand.

The shooting was doubtlessly done by the father, Frank Jones. He was a storekeeper, aged 29 years. Four years ago he and his wife were separated, but they became reconciled soon afterwards and had been living together, though not happily, according to the neighbors, ever since. Nothing is known as to what prompted the deed, but it is supposed it was the outcome of one of their numerous petty quarrels.

The Proposed National Baptist Theological Seminary.

To all Negro Baptist Pastors and Churches.

Dear Brethren:
At the recent session of the National Baptist Convention held in Chicago, the Convention unanimously and heartily voted its conviction that the time was at hand for the Negro Baptists of America to do something definite and decisive toward the founding of a Negro Baptist Theological Seminary, to be owned and controlled exclusively by the National Baptist Convention. The Convention, realizing that in each of our Southern states there is already a Baptist literary institution for the education of our sons and daughters, feels a profound sympathy for all our colleges in the several states, and would urge their liberal support and patronage on the part of all of our brethren. The Negro Baptists have demonstrated their capacity to conduct colleges, but it now remains for them to demonstrate their capacity to conduct a well-equipped Theological Seminary, and train their own ministry.

Unquestionably, we now have the men who, in point of education and character, are well-equipped to serve the brethren in the new institution such as we propose. A theological seminary devoted only to the training of ministers will stimulate ministerial education among us as no other institution can.

In keeping with the desire and conviction of the Convention, the Educational Board of the National Baptist Convention have perfected their organization, and have determined to carry the will of the Convention into effect. The headquarters of the Board is located at Nashville, Tenn., and to assist the Educational Board, an Executive Committee have been appointed, consisting of:

M. W. Gilbert, D. D., ex-officio, of New York; Rev. Sutton E. Griggs, of Nashville, Tenn.; Prof. W. L. Causler, of Nashville, Tenn.; Rev. Wm. Haynes, of Nashville, Tenn.; Rev. E. M. Lawrence, of Nashville, Tenn.; Rev. T. J. Searcy, of Memphis, Tenn.; and Rev. C. L. Fisher, D. D. of Birmingham, Ala.

We are pleased to state that the Rev. Wm. Haynes of Nashville, Tenn. a man well known for high character and strict honesty, has been selected for treasurer of the Educational Board.

The Board decided to give all the brethren a chance to state within the next sixty days, the sacrifices they are willing to make to secure the location of this seminary in their midst. It should be understood that the institution must have a healthful and pleasant location, and any community desiring the school in its locality should make suitable offer and present the best inducements possible. The following brethren constitute the committee on location of the Seminary:

Gilbert of New York, Abner of Texas, Odum of Ark., Wilson of Kansas, McKinney of Fla., Fisher of Alabama, Jackson of Va., Baylor of South Carolina, Crossly of La., Wilson of Oklahoma, and Crosby of North Carolina.

This committee is called to meet in Atlanta, Ga., on December 28th, 1905, to decide definitely the location of the prospective seminary. All brethren interested in the location will please meet the committee in Atlanta at the date designated, or they may communicate their views to the Chairman of the Board. The place of meeting in Atlanta will be designated later on. We entreat the brotherhood to pray for our success in this undertaking.

Fraternally yours,
M. W. GILBERT,
Chair, National Bapt. Ed. Board.

Editor Dickerson Denied a New Trial.

J. E. Dickerson, Jr., the negro editor of the newspaper, Norfolk News and Advertiser, issued here and in Petersburg was denied a new trial today. He appeared in the Corporation Court to move for a new trial against a verdict of five months in jail and $100 fine for criminal libel. He was convicted of slander against Josephine Davis, the leader of the choir in St. John's Methodist Church, colored. He has written vicious articles of the woman, her husband, who is superintendent of the Sunday School; the pastor of the church, and all of the witnesses who testified in the courts in favor of the woman. The supposition is that he has lost mental balance, though the articles of his paper are written correctly, and in excellent style. He has not offered any explanation or retraction, and he seems willing to go to jail and stay there in the effort "to elevate the race."
